It confirms the overseas student’s eligibility to enrol in the particular course of the registered provider (National Code 2018).

Special Consideration: consideration provided to an applicant for a selected course, involving an adjustment to the admissions criteria being applied, based on documented evidence.

4. Policy

AITC has an obligation to ensure that students have the best chance of success in their academic endeavours and to achieve this, its admissions and enrolment processes address the following requirements:

- Minimum entry requirements for admission into each Postgraduate Course must be established to ensure student has the best chance of successful completion of his/her Course.
- Entry requirements for each Postgraduate Course are appropriate to commence and obtain the AQF level of the course.
- Entry requirements for each Postgraduate Course have been approved by the Academic Board and are available to review on the AITC website; each prospective student's application will be assessed against the requirements based on the student's knowledge and skills at the time of the prospective student's application.
- Admission processes are transparent, fair, consistent, and equitable.
- Prior to enrolment Students will be informed of their rights and obligations.
- Admissions decisions must be flexible regarding the promotion of diversity and equity, considering students from disadvantaged backgrounds.
- Admissions processes must ensure the accuracy and authenticity of all application documentation.
- All contractual arrangements with students are in writing and detail any/all conditions.
- Students must be at least 18 years of age upon Course commencement.

5. General Admission Requirements

Applicants must meet all entrance requirements in order to be eligible for admission, however, even if an applicant meets all requirements they are not guaranteed of admission.

AITC requires all applicants to verify certain details by providing original or certified copies of documents that officially translated into English. At a minimum, the applicant must provide evidence of the following:

- their identity including their date of birth;
- their Citizenship;
- their Visa status (international students);
- any educational qualification or achievement required for admission; and;
- English language proficiency (international students).

Student applying to study must complete the Student Application Form and submit it with the required evidence documents to AITC for assessment. Applications will be received through direct entry, meaning all applications are to be made directly to AITC and Application due dates will be published on its website. Applications received after the published due date may be accepted at the discretion of the Academic Dean or the Registrar.

6. Admission Criteria

The approval for a new course, or any change to an existing course, should specify the criteria that will apply for admission into that course. Any subsequent change to the criteria must be approved by the Academic Board. These course-specific admissions criteria will be published on the website and will be available in the Course Guide.

The course-specific admissions criteria can include defined performance levels in any combination of the following elements;

- previous study in specified discipline areas;
- relevant professional experience;
- language skills; and;
- an interview.

Where the admission criteria includes a requirement for an interview, the course proposal must provide details of how this interview will be managed.

Relevant professional experience will be outlined by the applicant and this will include details of the employer, the role of the candidate in the organization, and the periods of employment. The Academic Dean will assess this experience and evaluate its value in supporting the learning of the applicant in the course being applied for.

To qualify for admission and enrolment into a Course offered by AITC, an applicant must meet all the admissions criteria for the Course. Meeting all the criteria does not guarantee entry.

7. Special Consideration for Admission

Whilst admission to courses is based on defined criteria, AITC recognises that under some circumstances applicants' ability to demonstrate their potential against those criteria will be impacted by a range of circumstances.

An applicant who does not meet the minimum admissions criteria for a course may apply in writing to the Academic Dean requesting to be granted special consideration for admission as well as outlining the basis for their request. Special consideration may be approved by the Academic Dean and shall only be approved where;

- there is clear evidence that the applicant's circumstances have affected their ability to demonstrate their capability against the admissions criteria; and;
- clear alternative evidence is provided that demonstrates that the applicant has the capability to succeed in completing the course.

Special consideration may only be granted where the applicant has been affected by one or more of the following circumstances:

- an applicant has a disability;
- an applicant has a learning or language difficulty;
- an applicant is from a socioeconomic disadvantaged background;
- an applicant is of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander descent; and;
- an applicant who has suffered some other disadvantage in his/her access to education.

Any decision by the Academic Dean will be recorded in writing and will outline the basis for the decision. A report will be provided to Academic Board each semester that details all the applications for special consideration that have been made, and the basis on which decisions were made.

8. Credit and Recognition of Prior Learning

Applications for course credit or Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) should be made at the time of applying for a course. Any credit or RPL awarded will be subject to the Academic Credit and Recognition of Prior Learning Policy. The outcome of the assessment should be included in the letter of offer and must be accepted by the applicant. Records of acceptance will be retained for two years after the student ceases to be an accepted student.

9. Offers

Students will be advised of the outcomes of the applications in writing. A successful applicant will receive an offer of admission from AITC. Offers may be unconditional or conditional together with all the information relevant to an applicant accepting the offer.

Applicants need to sign the Offer Acceptance Form and return it to AITC with the required payment and other documents that requested in the offer. Information regarding the Tuition Fees Payment could be found on AITC website.

Upon AITC receiving the completed Offer Acceptance Form and the required tuition fees, a CoE will be issued to students that enable students to apply for a Student Visa; the CoE will cover the expected duration of study specified in the Offer. Information on obtaining a Student Visa is available online at <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/>.

Upon being granted the student visa, student should advise AITC about their travel arrangements as soon as practicable if students request the Airport reception and accommodation placement services.

Students should attend the orientation programs before the commencement of the formal study, which help students access the information and services available to assist them in adjusting to study and life in Australia.

10. Deferral

An applicant may decide to defer enrolment after a successful application. The deferment period cannot exceed one year. The Academic Dean will determine and communicate to the applicants the procedure, terms and conditions of any deferment.

11. Refusal of Admission and Appeals

If an application for admission is refused for any reason, the applicant may appeal the decision. If this is the case, the applicant is entitled to appeal the decision under the Student Grievance Mediation Policy.
