1. Purpose

This policy outlines the approach of the Australian Institute of Technology & Commerce (AITC) to address Bullying and Harassment in its workplace and/or learning environment.

2. Scope

This policy refers to AITC, its staff, students and contractors.

3. Definitions

Bullying means repeated and unreasonable behaviour directed towards a person or a group of people that creates a risk to their health and safety. The act of Bullying causes the recipient/s to have a sense of intimidation, fear, offence and/or humiliation, irrespective of the intention of the person/people committing the Bullying. Bullying can include a range of behaviours over time. Bullying can be carried out verbally, physically or in writing (for example, via email, internet chat rooms, instant messaging, social media, and mobile phone technologies such as text messaging and messaging apps).

Discrimination means when a person or group of people are treated differently or unfairly because they belong to a group that have characteristics. In Australia it is unlawful to discriminate based on the following characteristics: Age. Disability. Industrial activity. Employment activity.

Marital status. Physical features. Political belief or activity. Gender identity. Religious belief or activity. Pregnancy. Irrelevant criminal record. Breast feeding. Sex. Sexual orientation. Social origin. Parental status or status as a carer. Race (including colour, nationality, ethnicity and ethnic origin). Personal association (whether as a relative or otherwise) with a person who is identified by reference to any of the previous attributes.

Harassment means unwelcomed, unsolicited or unreciprocated behaviour which makes a person feel sexualised, intimidated, offended, or belittled. Harassment is a form of unlawful discrimination. Harassment based on sex, race, or disability is also unlawful under Commonwealth laws and harassment such as physical assault can be a criminal offence. Harassment in the context of this policy covers any form of Sexual Misconducts; Sexual Misconduct: includes sexual assault, sexual harassment, or any form of:

- unwanted behaviour of a sexual nature such as repeated sexist jokes,
- exhibiting pornographic material,
- repeated unwelcome physical contact,
- sexual extortion or bribery.

4. Policy Intent

All staff, students, contractors or visitors to AITC have a right to enjoy an environment free from Bullying, Harassment or Discrimination while engaging in their work or when undertaking academic endeavours. AITC does not condone or accept any form of Bullying, Harassment or Discrimination. Any allegations of Bullying, Harassment or Discrimination will be investigated and appropriate action will be taken.

This Policy outlines how AITC will uphold its responsibility to students, staff, contractors and visitors to ensure that they are not subject to any form of Bullying, Harassment or Discrimination. The Policy also outlines how AITC will deal with any allegations of Bullying, Harassment or Discrimination.

AITC responds to Bullying, Harassment or Discrimination through the Staff Grievance Mediation Policy and the Student Grievance Mediation Policy and related staff or student grievance processes.

If a claim of bullying is raised or observed by someone other than the injured party then the grievance processes will not be triggered, however the bullying case will still be investigated, by a process outlined by the Academic Dean.

AITC understands that a person may feel that they are a victim of Bullying, Harassment or Discrimination, even if it was not the intention of the person who allegedly committed the act.

Examples of Bullying includes, but is not limited to:

- Intimidation.
- Threats or threatening remarks or gestures.
- Verbal abuse, including yelling, screaming or offensive language.
- Excluding or isolating people from workplace or teaching activities.
- Constant unreasonable and unconstructive criticism.
- Deliberately excluding, isolating or alienating someone.
- Placing unreasonably high work or academic demands on one person but not others.
- Undermining responsibility.
- Withholding information essential to do a task properly.
- Spreading malicious rumours.

- Cyber bullying.
- Physical violence or abuse.
- Interfering with personal property or work equipment.

Examples of what would not be considered Bullying:

- Expressing differences of opinion in an appropriate manner.
- Requiring students to perform a task or assessment which is reasonable and places the same demands on all students.
- Giving lawful and reasonable instructions to employees.
- Exercising reasonable supervision of an employee.
- Reasonable performance or behavioural counselling in the right forum and in an appropriate manner.
- Allocating work in accordance with operational or business needs.
- Legitimate disciplinary action.

Examples of what would be considered Harassment, incorporating sexual harassment, includes, but is not limited to:

- Uninvited and unreciprocated physical contact.
- Persistent following (stalking).
- Persistent verbal abuse or threats.
- Persistently disrupting someone's work, work space, equipment or interfering with their personal property.
- Jokes, derogatory or dismissive comments.
- Gestures that are insulting or belittling.
- Circulating, displaying written or pictorial material that is offensive or belittling.
- Sexual jokes, offensive telephone calls and email messages, displays of obscene or pornographic photographs, pictures, posters, screen savers and internet sites, reading matter or objects.
- Suggestive looks implying a sexual interest.
- Sexual propositions or persistent requests for dates.
- Making promises or threats in return for sexual favours.
- Unwelcome or improper remarks or insinuations about a person's sex life or private life.
- Suggestive comments about a person's appearance or body.
- Leering, wolf whistles, catcalls, obscene gesture.
- Indecent exposure.
- Requests for sex.
- Sexually explicit conversation, insults, taunting or comments.

Examples of what would be considered Discrimination includes, but is not limited to:

- Treating someone differently because of their sexual orientation;
- Giving a student a higher mark because their parents are influential political figures;
- Not promoting a staff member because they may be pregnant or breastfeeding;
- Stereotyping, belittling or treating someone differently because of their ethnic background;
- Making fun of someone due to a physical attribute or disability;
- Giving a larger workload to someone because they are single.

5. Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment (SASH)

The prevention of SASH and the response by AITC to any matter involving SASH is to be guided by the 9 principles contained in the TEQSA Good Practice Note: Preventing and responding to sexual assault and sexual harassment in the Australian higher education sector: July 2020. AITC subscribes to the importance of preventative actions including orientation programs and student information (including who to report a SASH matter to), resources and support services.

Attachment A of this policy lists the 9 principles referred to in the TEQSA Guidance Note with the relevant AITC response and relevant implementation actions.

6. Reporting an Incident of Bullying, Discrimination or Harassment

Reports of sexual misconduct may be made in person, by phone, or in writing to AITC staff, i.e. Registrar and any member of the Senior Management Team.

Reports may be made by another person on behalf of a victim, subject to their consent.

Reports are kept strictly confidential and information on the incident is provided to staff only where required to respond effectively to the report.

AITC provides support to students who report an incident and ensures that they are not victimised for doing so.

Reports may be made anonymously or for incidents which happened in the past. In these circumstances, AITC may be unable to respond effectively beyond offering support, for lack of information or evidence.

Investigations into reports of Bullying, Discrimination or Harassment are conducted by a dedicated committee composed of adequately trained and independent staff members.

AITC will only refer cases to NSW Police with the consent of the victim or where legally required to do so.

7. Consequences of Bullying, Discrimination or Harassment

AITC will treat all reported allegations of Bullying, Harassment or Discrimination seriously and impartially. The consequence of breaching this Policy will depend on the seriousness of the case. Outcomes may include, but are not restricted to the following:

- Action to redress the breach of this Policy.
- Requiring an apology to the affected person or persons.
- Providing mediation between the parties, if both parties agree to mediation process and to the mediator.
- Providing targeted training regarding prevention of unacceptable behaviours.
- Offering support to the person making the complaint.
- Offering support to the person against whom the complaint is made.
- Disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal or expulsion of the person found in breach of this Policy.
- Disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal or expulsion of the person making a complaint of a Breach of this Policy if, after investigation, the complaint is found to have been malicious or vexatious.
- Disciplinary action may be taken against anyone who retaliates against a person who has made a complaint.
